TO WHOM SO EVER IT MAY CONCERN

I am pleased to write a recommendation letter for Joanna Obuchowska. She was interning in Tirunelveli, India at Pushpalata British International School following Cambridge International Education from October 15th to December 14th for 2 months.

She was willing to take responsibility in teaching children in different groups and subjects. She was effective and involved in her work. She actively participated and showed interest in learning our school system and how it works in practice. She is friendly and adapted to the cultural differences easily. She showed initiative in learning our methodology and gave suggestions for collaboration of the eastern and western methods of teaching. She did a project with children and taught them to appreciate and to respect nature.

She did a resourceful interaction session for our teachers and had some very good ideas to share. The children and teacher were greatly benefited by her presence and the time spent here was enriching. She is a sincere person with an open approach. She is passionate about teaching and is a quick learner as well. This quality makes her a suitable candidate for teaching. I wish her the very best in her future endeavours.

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'Pushpalata', is written over a blue circular stamp.
